

LionWeb: Status + Use cases

LangDev 2026
Meinte Boersma, Niko Stotz

Short introduction

Mission

To create an ecosystem of interoperable components for building language-oriented modeling tools on the web.

Adopt language engineering

Reduce vendor lock-in

Mix and match components

Foster innovation and incremental improvements

Reference Architecture

Protocols (bulk + delta)
Contents (JSON + Protobuf*)

*) unofficial

Status

Outreach

New core members

- Sergey Zverlov (F1RE)

Office hours

- Once a month (every second Friday) — successful!

Progress

- Released 2026.1 (now!)
 - Main feature: Delta Protocol (specification)
- Implementation of Delta Protocol in C#, TypeScript, JVM, and server
- OpenAPI spec. for Bulk API

Progress

Released 2026.1 (now!)

Main feature: Delta Protocol (specification)

Implementation of Delta Protocol in C#, TypeScript, JVM, and server
OpenAPI spec. for Bulk API

Delta protocol

Released as part of 2026.1

Is seeing heavy use in production with at least one customer

- Spec and implementations turn out to be a very good fit

Changes since last year:

- Command and event names more consistent

- Chunked messages

- Precisely-defined errors

Use cases

Use cases

1. Strumenta: legacy transformation of huge code bases
2. TRUMPF: essential part of infrastructure
3. LionWeb implementation of an MCP
4. How to implement an LWB with LionWeb
5. LionWeb as integration platform
